7 Killed, 36 Injured In New York Plane Crash

Mishap Occurs Seconds After Craft Airborne

Leaving Rochester
For Newark, N.J.
In Electrical Storm

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A twin-engine Mohawk Airlines plane, straining to gain altitude in a raging electrical and hail storm, crashed seconds after take-off Tuesday. Seven persons were killed and 36 injured, seven of them critically.

"It was like flying into the dead of the night," one survivor said from his hospital bed.

"The wind grabbed us the minute we left the ground," said another.

The Martin 404, carrying 40 passengers and a crew of 3, was headed for Newark, N.J. via White Plains, N.Y. It fell into mud about 80 yards off a runway at Rochester-Monroe County Airport, several miles southwest of Rochester.

An investigation was begun by federal aviation officials.

One wingtip apparently struck the ground, a witness said. The plane bounced, broke in two like a matchstick and caught fire. Airport firemen extinguished the flames.

The dead included the pilot, Capt. Richard M. Dennis, 39, Fairview, N.J.; First Officer John W. Neff, 33, Wilmington, Del., and Roy E. Drew, Pelham, N.Y., controller of Sylvania Electric Products Inc.

Richard Baldwin, 26, Danbury, Conn., said the plane hit turbulence when "we got up 10 feet. It was like flying into the dead of night."

"Wind draft pushed us around," observed Robert Christopher, 28, of Stratford, Conn. "The pilot was fighting the stick all the way."

Thomas Myer, 55, Westport, Conn., said the plane had climbed to an altitude of 75 or 100 feet when "it happened in 20 seconds."

"I was thrown clear of the plane and landed in mud up to my elbows," said John L. O'Brien, White Plains, reported in fair condition with a skull fracture, cuts and bruises.

Ex-Marine Joseph Pearson of Tonawanda, N.Y., a worker on a construction project, helped pull survivors from the plane.

"One man was walking around with his ear torn and bleeding," Pearson said. "He asked for help but I said there's no time. We've

Two Negley Boys Hurt In Collision

Two Negley area youths were slightly injured Tuesday at 6:15 p.m. when their car collided with another from Columbiana on Route 154, about two miles west of Negley.

Dale A. Davis, 16, of RD 1, Negley, received contusions of the head and abrasions of the right shoulder. The driver, Donald W. Davis, 22, same address, was cut on the left eyebrow. Both were treated by an East Palestine physician.

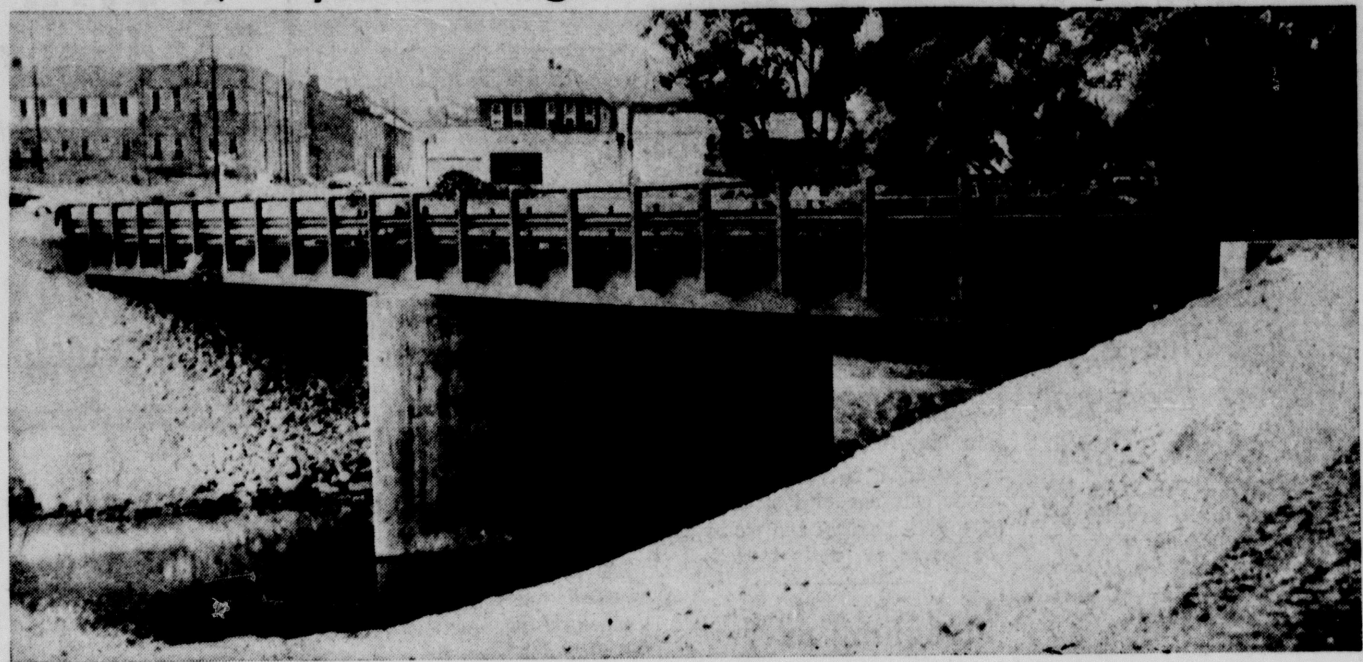

The Davises' car collided with a sedan operated by Paul O. Miner, 44, of RD 2, Columbiana. The Lisbon post of the State Highway Patrol reported Davis started to pass Miner when the Columbiana motorist drifted left, striking the Negley car.

Rear End Mishap at Ellsworth
Anna Rodgers, 503 W. Park, Columbiana, was cited Tuesday by the Canfield barracks of the State Highway Patrol for failing to stop within the assured clear distance.

Mrs. Rodgers' car struck the rear of an auto operated by Ralph Harmon of Berlin Center, who had stopped for the traffic light at Ellsworth, scene of the truck-car crash which killed four Tennessee persons Monday.

New $63,672 Bridge In Lisbon Near Completion

A new $63,672, two-span bridge on S. Market St. in Lisbon (top) to replace a one-span "bow-string truss" of unknown vintage (bottom picture) is expected to be completed soon, Columbiana County Engineer's Office officials said today.

However, completion of the entire project is not expected until Sept. 1.

The new bridge is east of the old structure, eliminating a "hair pin" curve and therefore county workers must put in new approaches to the span.

The new structure, being built by the Lox Construction Co. of Wooster, will have a 24-foot roadway and a five-foot sidewalk. The old bridge has just a 12-foot roadway and no sidewalk.

The new bridge has a total length of 148 feet compared to the old span's length of 98 feet. Officials say the reason for the difference in length is because the new bridge crosses the creek at an angle while its predecessor crosses at a 90-degree angle with the creek, and because the new bridge is built on a spill-through abutment, which eliminates concrete walls at each side of the bridge.

Officials point out that the savings in construction of the walls more than offset the cost of the added length. The new bridge is on concrete caps on steel pilings.

European Tour Over for JFK

President Convinced
Trip Was Success

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's just-completed European tour may have improved his hand in dealing with French President Charles de Gaulle.

Kennedy returned to Washington early today after 11 days and 13,000 miles of travel in Germany, Ireland, England and Italy.

One of his first chores back home was to brief the Cabinet on the trip and hear from Cabinet secretaries a review of events during his absence, particularly in the civil rights field.

Kennedy's trek through Western Europe was his longest overseas journey as President and it hit a high point during the first three days—in Germany and Communist-encircled Berlin.

It was largely because of the President's success in winning massive display of welcome from the German populace, and convincing statements of solidarity from German leaders, that he feels the trip was worth the effort. He made repeated appeals in Germany for greater European unity keyed to closer cooperation with the United States.

In some quarters here and abroad there have been fears that Germany might be preparing to cast her lot with France and De Gaulle's controversial goal of an independent Europe free of close ties with America.

Although the Franco-German approachment is a reality, and one applauded by Kennedy, the reception given the President in Germany demonstrated that the good will of the United States still has a great potency in that country. This fact presumably has not been lost on De Gaulle and his neighbors. In even broader terms, politicians throughout Western Europe can hardly ignore the im-

Trucker Burned In Fiery Crash on Rt. 14

A 46-year-old Summit County truck driver is in Salem City Hospital in critical condition after he was burned over three-fourths of his body in a flaming crash with another truck today at 5:25 a.m. on Route 14, two-tenths of a mile west of Route 7.

The hospital reported that Frank Myers of 609 W. Thornton St., Akron, has second and third degree burns over 75 per cent of his body.

Fire Chief Makes Plea For More Men

A recent situation when the Salem city fire station was vacant for 20 minutes was mentioned by Fire Chief E. M. Bush in a request for more men for the fire department.

The request was made in a letter written yesterday and addressed to Ralph Zimmerman, chairman of City Council's safety committee. The letter said:

"We are running vacations during the summer months which leaves us with four men on duty at the station. These men go out with the truck on a general alarm, leaving one driver at the station to call back off-duty firemen, answer phone and radio and to bring additional equipment if necessary.

Two men are sent out on the township truck or with jeep to grass or car fires.

"There have been three occasions during June when we have had two calls at the same time. On the 10th we had two calls at 6:04 p.m. . . . On the 25th at 7:03 p.m. . . . On the 27th at 4:50 p.m. . . . and at 5:08 p.m. Both pieces of equipment and on-duty firemen were out in the township at the same time.

"Notified police by radio to answer phones. The station was left empty for 20 minutes. This is

Auditor Cites Fund Situation

City Treasury Not Overflowing, Report

Presenting City Council last night with a financial statement of Salem's general fund for the first six months of 1963 City Auditor Helen Coyne commented that "the outlook for the balance of the year is not good."

She says the city's cash balance July 1 was $15,087.40 and outstanding bills to June 1 presented to her by July 1 amount to $7,949.97.

Were she to pay all the bills, the cash balance would be $7,137.43 — not enough to half cover the city's general fund monthly payroll of approximately $19,000, according to the auditor.

Other figures cited in Auditor Coyne's report include Amount received from real estate taxes so far this year, $22,925.69; estimated balance to be received from county in second-half of year, $93,150.81 (based on the $116,076.50 received in county taxes last year).

Amount received in first six months from city income tax this year $62,188.40; estimated balance to be received in second six month period, $48,211.01 (based on the $110,399.41 received from city income tax last year).

Real estate and personal taxes and the city income tax bring in the bulk of the city's general fund income.

The estimated general fund payroll for the six months remaining in 1963 is $115,000.

Propaganda or Peace Overture?

Kennedy To Study Nikita's Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy was faced upon his return from Europe today with a decision on whether to treat Soviet Premier Khrushchev's new proposals as propaganda or as a real opening toward an East-West accord.

The Soviet leader, in a major address in East Berlin, called in vague terms for a ban on atmospheric nuclear tests and a non-aggression pact between the rival NATO and Warsaw military alliances.

A radio-monitored text of Khrushchev's speech began arriving at the State Department Tuesday as Kennedy headed home toward Washington. Authorities promptly started a careful analysis, but found many questions unanswered.

A State Department press officer, Robert J. McClosky, declined immediate comment.

Initial private reactions among other officials ranged widely from speculation that a break in the cold war logjam may be in sight to an assessment that Khrushchev intends only to reap a propaganda harvest at the West's expense.

All agreed that important details needed to be clarified.

Kennedy must decide soon how to deal with the Khrushchev proposal, for he is sending Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman to Moscow for renewed test ban negotiations starting July 15.

The East Berlin speech rates as the main recent indicator of the Soviet position on this issue. But officials here raised these major questions about the Khrushchev offer:

1. Is Khrushchev proposing an uninspected moratorium on underground atomic explosions in addition to a ban on other nuclear tests?

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union will agree to outlawing "nuclear tests in the atmosphere, in outer space and under water." The West has proposed such a partial ban too, saying it can be policed by detection systems based outside the Soviet Union, based outside the Soviet Union.

The Soviets always have conditioned acceptance of a partial ban by insisting also on an inspection-free moratorium of indefinite length on underground shots. This has been refused by the West, which contends that on-the-spot inspections are needed to safeguard against sneak explosions below ground.

2. Did Khrushchev put his test ban and nonaggression pact offers in one inseparable package?

The Soviet leader said that for the sake of easing international tensions "it is also necessary to take another major step" in addition to a test ban agreement; the signing of "a nonaggression pact between the two main military blocs — the NATO countries and the Warsaw Pact states."

Washington analysts said this language did not make it clear whether Khrushchev was saying the two issues must be settled together.

3. What conditions did Khrush-

Trying To Get Missile Data for Russia

FBI Nabs Two Couples On Charges of Spying

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI has arrested two couples on charges of conspiring to steal data on U.S. missile bases and other military information for Moscow.

One of the couples is Russian—the husband is a personnel officer in the U.N. secretariat.

The arrests Tuesday in Washington and on Long Island followed by one day a U.S. order for expulsion of a Soviet Embassy official for attempting to recruit a Russian-born U.S. intelligence official to spy for the Reds. But the FBI said there is no link between the two cases.

According to a complaint filed in a New York federal court, the four arrested Tuesday conspired with at least two Soviet military intelligence men to transmit to the Russians information on U.S. military installations and troop movements.

These included top-priority missile bases, it was learned.

The four were ordered held without bail after preliminary hearings before U.S. commissioners. Hearings were postponed to July 16 to give the couples time to secure lawyers.

Seized in a raid on a Flushing, Long Island, apartment were Ivan Dmitriyevich Egorov, 41, and his wife Aleksandra Egorova, 39. Egorov is a personnel officer in the U.N. secretariat.

The FBI said the couple resisted arrest and the woman "put up a terrific struggle" and had to be carried away by agents.

The pair seized in a Washington apartment denied their guilt at a hearing.

While the FBI called them "John and Jane Doe" in its complaint it said they were living under the names of Robert Keistutis Baltch and Joy Ann Garber, or Joy Ann Baltch. The names were taken, the FBI said, from innocent citizens—a Roman Catholic priest and a Connecticut housewife.

The FBI would not discuss the background of the Baltch couple —even to say whether they, too, might be Russian.

Also named but not charged in the complaint are Russian U.N. employees Aleksei Galkin, 45, and Peter Egorovich Maslennik, 43, both of whom left for Russian in May.

Ordinance's Passage Comes On 4 to 2 Vote

Yield Of $30,000
Anticipated For Water Department

By a vote of 4 to 2, City Council passed an ordinance Tuesday night calling for a hike in the city sewage rate from the present 55 per cent to 70 per cent of the current water rates. It is effective immediately.

Based on last year's water department income of $179,000, the new sewage rate is expected to increase the sewage department's annual revenue by about $30,000 annually.

A. A. Parker, chairman of the Utilities Commission, said that the current rate of 53 per cent actually nets the sewage department about 50.2 per cent, and that the 70 per cent sewage rate will net about 67 or 68 per cent.

The ordinance, which was given two readings at previous Council sessions, had until moments before the third and final reading last night provided for a sewage rate of 75 per cent.

In favor of the 70 per cent rate were: Councilmen James Aldom, Harold Astry, Charles Gibbs and Ralph Zimmerman. Voting "no" on the ordinance were Councilmen Fred Koenreich and Albert Lesch, who in previous Council meetings made clear their belief that the sewage rate did not have to be as high as 75 or 70 per cent.

Both Koenreich and Lesch, Democrats, had said they believed a 65 per cent rate would be sufficient. Aldom and Astry are also Democrats, the other councilmen Republicans.

Council President Ford Joseph Jr., a Democrat, and Councilman John Rance, Republican, were missing from last night's meeting.

Before the sewage rate ordinance was voted upon or amended last night, Councilman Gibbs made an effort to have the legislation tabled because not all members of the city legislature were present.

Objecting, Councilman Aldom maintained that there was not sufficient reason for tabling the motion, and that "we are at a time of year when it's difficult to get a full Council." He suggested that if voting on the ordinance were to be withheld until all members are present, the voting "could be put off all summer."

Aldom moved to amend the ordinance to read 70 per cent instead of 75 per cent.

Taking exception to the suggestion that the new sewage rate might be lower than 70 per cent, Aldom praised the work and accomplishments of the present

GETTYSBURG BATTLEFIELD, Pa. (AP)—Men in blue and gray prepared today for a dramatization of the decisive climax of the battle of Gettysburg, fought here 100 years ago.

Gen. George Pickett's charge—a brave but futile effort by 15,000 Confederates to cross a mile of valley and drive the federals off Cemetery Ridge—was launched at 3 p.m. July 3, 1863.

When the attack failed in an inferno of gunfire and hand-to-hand fighting, the greatest battle of the war was decided and, it turned out, the doom of the Confederacy was sealed.

At 3 p.m. EDT today, 500 men in gray with Stars and Bars flying were to cross the fateful field again. At the Bloody Angle of the

Ohio Bell Billing Mistake Corrected

About 2,000 Salem residents have received erroneous instructions with their telephone bills this week about merely dialing on digit 1 to connect them with direct distance dialing equipment instead of using the standard number 112.

The instruction to dial 1 was intended solely for the Akron area and should not have been included with any Salem bills, explained W. J. McKay, commercial manager.

Some day this system will be installed in Salem and the first exchange to get it will be the Edgewood exchange. Other exchanges will be converted gradually later.

Board president Joe Less of Greenford has been acting manager since Ross' demise. Less reported six applications have been received thus far, including four from the district, one from the East and one from Michigan.

The acting manager said the cooperative is now handling the strawberry crop which is only about half normal size due to the late May freeze.

The apple harvest is expected to be only one-third of the usual size while peaches and plums will be scarce as "hen's teeth."

GAY DUTCH FOLK

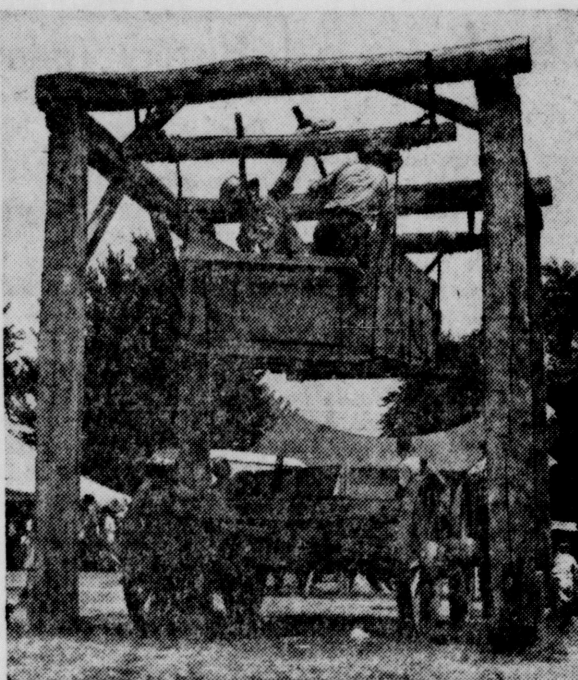

Smithy hammers out miniature horseshoe of kind that kept wagons moving.

FOOD FANCIERS will follow their noses to the "cookie house" and the "pie house" when the Pennsylvania Dutch spread out their wares for their annual Folk Festival in Kutztown, Pa., the first week in July. For the less hungry, the fairgrounds will include demonstrations of pine tar burning, cider pressing, shaving shingles for roofing, hoe-down demonstrations, "schpotza" making (a maple sugar delicacy) and basket-making. It's the largest such folk festival in the United States.

The Key Was Gettysburg

It is all very interesting, if sometimes childish, to re-enact Civil War battles as if they were not the greatest chapter in U.S. history—the memory least to be cherished. It is in keeping with the American way of doing things to have a ring-ding-a-doo at Gettysburg, commemorating the 100th anniversary of the breaking point of the Confederacy's do-or-die effort to scuttle the Union. The Gettysburg merchants and the trinket industry need the business.

The key fact about Gettysburg is the historic truth that when the horror of the war between brothers a century ago had been brought to a stop, it was conceded that the Confederacy never recovered from its losses in this fatal engagement.

This was when the Union was preserved and the rebels were defeated. This was when the betrayal of the United States by its own citizens, with the backing of hostile Britain, faced a moment of truth.

Presumably, the issue was settled by the Confederacy's defeat. There would be no further spurning of the Constitution and the authority of the federal government.

The thought was that if this were true in all the other skirmishes and battles of a war that never should have happened would not have died in vain.

Is it not tragic twice over in 1963 that so many seem to have forgotten what supposedly was settled when the rebel forces spent so much life and treasure at Gettysburg that they had no choice but final surrender by the spring of 1865?

Marx Left Legacy of Dispute

In day-to-day practice, every country listed in the Communist bloc has its own version of the dictatorship of the proletariat.

This is the explosive heritage of Yugoslavia's declaration of independence from the Moscow line in 1948. It verified the suspicion that Marxism in the long run would be shaped by local circumstances.

These differences, it was predicted, would cut across the grain of Marxist theory. The terrorists then would obey the timeless impulse to drink each other's blood in angry ideological disputes.

They would confront each other with irreconcilable differences of opinion about what should be, according to Marx, while cutting the coat to fit the cloth in everyday practice. They would live by reality and argue over theory.

THIS IS what is involved in the running arguments between Russian Communists and Communists in countries less developed than Russia.

The Chinese Communists and their ideological allies are second-guessing the Russian Communists for coming to terms with the realities of Russian development.

Primitive Communist societies are still trying to go by the book, whereas Russian Communists of Khrushchev's generation have learned what long has been known outside Russia—that Karl Marx's theories have no bearing on 20th century industrialism than the discredited idea that the atom was unsplitable.

Even inside Russia, primitive Communists are in disagreement with "progressives."

Subject to the rule of the mob that internecine warfare is always the bloodiest, comrades inside the Soviet Union are as busy cutting up each other as their international comrades are in cutting up the Khrushchev administration.

THIS KIND of absolutism is the best hope of non-Communist countries.

Whatever the non-Communist governments lack, they are not enchained by inflexible ideologies; they are not destined to spend their energy in endless disputes over the true meaning of theories set down a century ago by a muddled mind with no insight into the 20th century evolution of industrialism.

Can the Man Mean It?

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has a curious outlook on the forthcoming civil rights debate in Congress.

He says it will be a test of the Republican party's reason for existence.

This is contrary to the point of view that it will be a test of the Democratic party's right to claim Negro votes in next year's national election.

Democrats have enough members in the Senate and House to push through any program that commands their support.

But the cold fact is that civil rights cannot command Democratic support now and never could.

THERE WOULD BE no civil rights move by the Kennedy administration if Negro militancy had not made some move essential at this time.

The Truman and Roosevelt administrations showed no enthusiasm for an aggressive civil rights move.

Negroes made more progress under the Eisenhower administrations than they made under a succession of Democratic administrations.

Yet the principal spokesman for NAACP told the National Community Relations Advisory Council at Atlantic City last week that the Republican party is responsible for passing an adequate civil rights bill this year.

He relieved the Democratic party, which Negroes have been backing heavily in the North, of all responsibility, though Democrats have the votes. He ignored the schism that keeps the Democratic party from handling this problem as a national party.

IF THIS reflects the thinking of any considerable number of Negroes, they have missed the point of a two-party system.

The system produces results because it gives voters an alternative. If they choose to stick to one party regardless of its performance, they can expect nothing from the other.

Staff Shapes Up

Salem High School football fans are about to welcome Head Football Coach Don Bennett of Dennison to Quakertown as assistant to Salem's new grid mentor, Don Clarico, who came here earlier from Malvern.

Bennett, coach at Dennison for the past four years, is Clarico's choice as his first assistant, with the blessings of the Salem Board of Education. Together, the two expect to field a good football team by the time September rolls around and already their local boosters are enthusiastic and pledging their wholehearted support.

Hang of Spelling

Someone was wondering the other day if people are still interested in spelling. It's a dumb thing to wonder about, perhaps, in view of the National Spelling Bee.

But the bee is for youngsters. Do adults still take an interest in spelling? Whatever happened to adult spelling bees that drew crowds like bingo draws them now?

They would be old-fashioned and square, though don't write them off. Square dancing has come back strong. Everything comes back if you wait long enough—even virtue, or worse, as far as teaching it and learning it.

If less is heard about spelling today, it is only because there are so many other things to hear about than there were when learning to spell was a major academic achievement.

It's still a handy thing to be able to do but not an educational imperative. Many successful men and women are sloppy spellers and need to be helped over rough places. But you'd never know it from hearing them on tape recorders and dictating machines.

IF THEY'RE smart enough to keep their written words concealed until someone with the hang of spelling has corrected them, they can go through life and never know how to spell "eczema."

The hang of spelling—that's the thing. It's something some people have, like charm in a woman. And also like charm in a woman, if you don't have it, better luck next time. There's no substitute.

Even if you learn routine words by rote, the tough ones will stick you. Your secret never will be safe.

It is connected with sharpness of visual and auditory perception.

There are people who never perceive that "ominous" has the "i" between the "m" and the "n." They always say "omniuous," just as there are some who always say "larnyx" in stead of "larynx."

Assuredly one of the commonest blunders must be to spell "develop" with an "e" on the end—"develope." This and hundreds of other words are abused and mislabeled by the educated as well as the illiterate. The only conceivable explanation is that some people are unable to see the relationship between the letters of words and to see and hear the proper sequence of syllables.

THE LATE Damon Runyon, who wrote professionally and worked with the written language all his life never learned how to spell "restaurant." He always spelled it "restaurant" in his syndicated newspaper copy.

There is, of course, no such thing as a "chaise longue" but that's what many people call a "chaise longue" and even the people who sell what originated in France as a "long chair" misspell and mispronounce the name of this popular item.

Then we have "tarpaulin," "reservoir," "harassment," "suite" and "viaduct." Naturally, you know how to pronounce them; everybody does. But chances are you're not only unable to pronounce them correctly but you couldn't spell them, either.

Goldwater Declares 'War' on Democrat 'Machine'

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., may or may not become his party's presidential nominee next year, but he certainly has done more lately than any other member of his party to point up the weaknesses of the Democratic party. The speech which the Arizona senator delivered a few days ago before the Young Republican National Convention at San Francisco was the first time any Republican spokesman really told the American people what a tremendous influence the corrupt, big-city political machines have achieved in state and national politics.

David Lawrence days ago before the Young Re-

Mr. Goldwater evidently believes it is more important in his public addresses to expose the weaknesses of the Democratic party than it is to extol his own virtues or to outline the programs his party would follow if successful at the next election.

This is well-tested strategy in American politics. Until the elec-orate is convinced that the party in power deserves to be turned out, there is not much political advantage in proposing the usual panaceas for current problems.

MR. GOLDWATER'S attack on big-city machines is reminiscent of the kind of attack Woodrow Wilson used to make against the bosses in his own party. Mr. Goldwater finds so-called "liberalism" nowadays at fault in that it professes to be interested in idealism but fails to make any attack on the corrupt city machines. Mr. Goldwater says: "You who are here from New York City, do you really believe that the Tammany machine is broken? Do you believe that government in your city is free from the graft and corruption so characteristic of big-city machines?"

"I seem to recall some investigations during the last several years that seem to suggest that business is going on very much as usual in New York City. In fact, only several days ago the press reported that an emissary from very high places made a special trip to visit with Carmine de Sapio. You know who it was—it was one of the relatives."

"And you who are here from Pennsylvania—what about the Green machine in Philadelphia? Has there ever been a tougher, more tightly controlled political machine in the history of Philadelphia? Has there ever been a political machine in your city more capable of delivering a machine vote—for a price?"

"And what about you people here from Illinois? Let me ask you about politics in Cook County. What about the ruthless Cook County machine in Chicago? Is it any different from the Kelly-Nash machine of which it is the heir? Is this bastion of modern liberal strength any less corrupt than it ever was?"

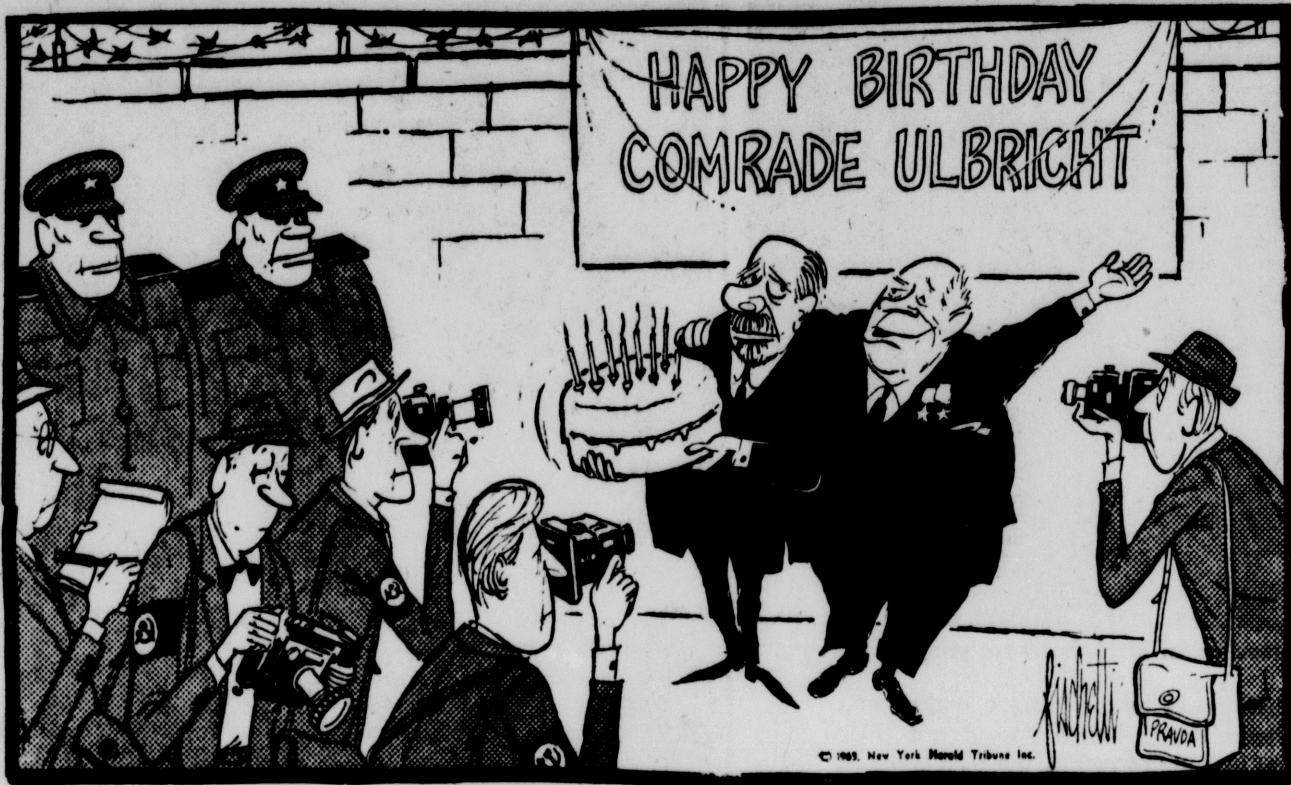

"I ask you, is it just coincidence that the political power of the infamous Cook County machine in Chicago is based especially on just those precincts which are the most vice-ridden—on those wards which have the highest crime rate?"

"Now, the corruption of the political machines in the big cities of the North is well known. It's no secret. It's one of the great scandals of American politics. It's one of the worst evils on the American scene."

"But have you heard any of the so-called 'liberals' in the national administration condemning this wholesale corruption? No, you have not. And why do they keep silent?"

"I charge that there is today a cynical alliance between the politicians who call themselves 'liberal' and the corrupt big-city machines whose job it is to deliver the bloc votes of the big Northern cities. It's the corrupt big-city machines which elect these men to public office..."

"The stern, cold fact is that no Democrat can be elected to national office today who is not under deep and unbreakable obligation to the corrupt big-city machines."

"Careful With the Cake, You Clod—I'm Taking It Back With Me"

Meany and the President

By VICTOR RIESEL

A stocky chap built like an old time football tackle was with the President all the way from Wiesbaden, Germany, to New Ross, Ireland. His activities and his role went virtually unreported, though in the next year he will be running interference for Mr. Kennedy as much or more than any other in the entourage.

He is George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, on whom the President will have to count heavily to win a massive labor vote from the millions of restless rank-and-filers in the '64 presidential election.

It was Meany who introduced the President to the German building trades convention in Berlin's Kongress-Halle near the "Wall." "I am not a stranger to trade union meetings," said the President. "I feel most at home. I appreciate the invitation extended to me by George Meany..."

Then Mr. Kennedy not only strongly endorsed the AFL-CIO but said of Meany:

"He has stood for freedom in the United States and around the globe. And you must help those who seek to organize trade unions in Latin America, Africa and Asia..."

To insiders these phrases meant more than just kind words from one American for another before a foreign audience. There were those among the President's advisers who had not wanted him to speak at the labor congress along with Meany.

lications gathered in the State Room at 5:30 p.m. President Kennedy had been mixing with them. Then he got up on a chair. It wobbled. Meany quickly supported him and the chair itself.

After warm greetings, the President said his legislative program absolutely required their help. "And after all, if I can't call on you, on whom can I? We want the same things. We need the same things. Who has more right to be here than you? You have every right to be here in the White House."

THERE WERE cheers. The President stepped down. Meany got up on the improvised platform. He said he had made a lot of speeches at cocktail parties, but, "I have never made one on Jackie Kennedy's chair. 'There is no difference,' Meany added, 'between our wishes and those of the President. Essentially we want the same thing.'"

This gathering was characteristic of many other mass visits to the White House. Every effort was made to make the labor editors feel at home. After the President left they wandered about. Some played the piano. Others—all unescorted—looked into various rooms. Finally they opened a door and it led them out.

These labor visitors—who sometimes have numbered as many as two and three hundred once—are important to the President.

He wants the personal contact—for he does not believe he has the voice for the kind of "fire-side" radio chats through which Franklin Roosevelt reached millions. He said this on a Saturday morning early in May to a visiting group which had urged him to go on the air.

Later he indicated he would concentrate on personal appearances, and would attempt to meet as many labor leaders and delegates at conventions and banquets as possible.

THIS, OF COURSE, is doing what comes naturally for a Democratic president. But there is more now to all this than just practical politics. It is essential politics for Mr. Kennedy.

There is wide unrest, for example, among the rank-and-file of the three million members of the building and construction trades unions over the integration issue. They could defect.

They could sit on their hands during the campaign—which also means they would not put them in their pockets. Yet labor's political machinery, functioning smoothly and in depth, is what Mr. Kennedy really will need in the next campaign.

And as always, through all this, the sturdy George Meany will be at the President's side. He will indeed be needed by the White House.

History Today

Today is Wednesday, July 3, the 184th day of 1963. There are 181 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this day in 1844, the first treaty between the United States permitted the trade and residence in certain ports.

On this date:

In 1778, the massacre at Wyoming, Pa., was carried out by a force of 600 Indians and border rangers in the service of England.

In 1863, the civil war Battle of Gettysburg ended in defeat for Southern armies commanded by Gen. Robert E. Lee.

In 1890, Idaho was admitted to the union as the 43rd state.

In 1942, the Russian stronghold of Sevastopol fell to German troops after a 245-day siege in World War II.

Ten years ago... Jack Hall and five other convicted Hawaiian Communists were sentenced to five years in jail and fined $5,000 each.

One year ago... French President Charles de Gaulle proclaimed the independence of Algeria.

Today's birthdays: Drama critic John Mason Brown is 63. Newspaper columnist and television panelist Dorothy Kilgallen is 50.

Thought for today: "Truth is on the march and nothing can stop it"—Emile Zola, French novelist.

CHARGES WERE made in November 1960 that the voting in Cook County in the districts controlled by the Democratic bosses was highly irregular, and, since Nixon lost Illinois by only about 8,000 votes, the shift of a few ballots might have made a difference in the way the state's 27 electoral votes finally were cast.

The Goldwater boom, whose growth is reflected in recent public opinion polls, is based on some extent on the widespread expectation that has arisen to the Rockefeller candidacy, but much of it is due also to the forthright position the Arizona senator has taken in national affairs.

Lately some "favorite son" movements have been initiated in various states. While on the surface it might seem that this is a trend unfavorable to the Goldwater candidacy, the opposite is true.

A favorite-son boom is usually a means of avoiding an early commitment, particularly an effort to prevent divisions inside the party in connection with local contests. It works both ways: it not only keeps he votes temporarily away from one or more of the leading contenders, but it also enables a state organization to transfer its votes to the top man in a race at the opportune moment.

MANY OF THE supporters of Sen. Goldwater are a bit uneasy because his boom is rising so rapidly. They know that, if he stands out alone for a long time, he will encounter organized opposition much earlier than would be the case if his candidacy were launched only a few months before the nominating convention in 1964.

The chances are that the Arizona senator will not announce flatly now that he will become a candidate, but will wait until the spring of 1964 before doing so.

Meanwhile, because Mr. Goldwater holds the center of the stage, he will be watched with keen interest by the Republican political leaders all over the country.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Boy-Crazy Girls

Dear Ann: I'm the mother of four teen-agers. These are perilous times for growing up, but I'm not concerned even remotely about my daughters, Ann. It's the boys that worry me.

Tom is 16 and Jim is 18. They are obedient and respectful, excellent students, well-behaved and outstanding in athletics. So what is the problem? It's the way the girls run after them that worries me. How much temptation can a young fellow stand?

Now that school is out, the phone rings night and day. Both boys have summer jobs, but when they come home at 5:30 there is a list of girls who have telephoned. Every night two or three girls drive up in their convertibles. Sunday a girl came over in her car. She was wearing a bikini.

I wouldn't think of allowing my daughters to be so shameless. What can a mother do? — ATLANTA, GA.

Dear Atlanta: The world always has had shameless females and I see no evidence that this sort of woman is disappearing. Your work is done, Mother—or it isn't. If your boys were taught early to respect themselves and others you need not worry. If you failed to teach them, worrying now won't help.

to a family which has five children. They range from 12 years of age down to 3. Our children who are 11 and 9 would rather be next door than home. They want to sleep there, eat there and often are included in outings and excursions with the neighbor's children.

I have told the mother repeatedly that I feel guilty, adding the burden of two to her five, but she assures me she doesn't mind since our children are "a pleasure to have around."

I fear, however, that the warm relationship is creating a delicate problem—religion. Our children are becoming more than casually interested in the religion of the family next door. My husband is afraid they may want to change.

We have permitted our youngsters to go to church with the neighbors and they are fascinated with the ritual. Any advice? — B.B.C.

Dear B.B.C.: And what is the spiritual climate in your home? Do you and your husband take your children to worship? Do they attend Sunday School?

If a child's spiritual needs are not satisfied at home it is not surprising that he would look elsewhere. I suspect you have been derelict in your duty and now the neighbors' religion is filling the vacuum. Get busy.

Dear Ann Landers: There's an unwritten law in our office that when a married woman becomes pregnant she leaves before her fifth month. There's no rule for the unmarried ones because you just don't expect it to happen to them.

It did happen, however, to a secretary in her 30s and this is what I'm writing about. She continued to work though anyone could see she was expecting a child.

She didn't wear maternity clothes but kept to skirts and blouses in large sizes. When she became enormous the office manager asked her to take a leave of absence. Seven weeks later her baby was born.

Three weeks have passed and the woman is back at work. She's about 35 pounds lighter, and acts as if everything is just ginger-peachy.

We don't know if she has released the child for adoption or what. She hasn't said one word about what happened. We feel her behavior is outrageous and would like your advice on how to treat her. — WE GIRLS.

Dear Girls: Treat her exactly as you would like to be treated if the same thing had happened to you.

Adopted by Neighbors
Dear Ann: We live next door

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

Breath-Holding Not Dangerous

About the worst thing that can happen when a child holds his breath until he is blue is that he will scare his mother half to death. Some infants in an attack of breath-holding may lose consciousness for a few seconds and may even have mild convulsions.

When this happens the involuntary centers of the brain take over, breathing is resumed, and the child's color returns to normal. These attacks may start when the child is only 9 or 10 months old and continue until he is 4 or 5 years old. Such extreme behavior is rare after this age.

The first thing for the mother to remember is that the child will come out of the attack without any help from her. It is impossible for anyone to hold his breath long enough to cause death, or even damage to tissues from lack of oxygen. The second thing to remember is that the cause is always a sudden fright, fear, anger, or frustration.

PUNISHMENT will only aggravate the attacks, which in some children may occur several times a day. On the other hand, these attacks should not be made an excuse for overindulgence or giving in to the child's every whim. Most children who have these attacks are emotionally high-strung. Often this is a reflection of emotional tensions and turmoil in the household. The mother should ignore the attacks, but make doubly sure between bouts to let the child know he is loved. Don't call your doctor in the middle of the night about this problem. Wait until the next regular checkup, and then mention it to him.

A few of these children have been found to have anemia and will be helped by medicines that return the blood elements to normal. A few others have correctable defects. The overwhelming majority are the type that get so mad they just can't take a simple breath.

Q—Our Baby has club feet. What can be done for him?

A—This is easily corrected if appropriate measures are applied early. Club feet are rotated inward at the ankles. Since this is due to abnormal pulling of one group of muscles and not to any bony deformity, the mother should straighten the feet and rotate them outward many times a day.

This will cause some pain, so the feet should not be held in a position of overcorrection for more than a few seconds at a time. When your baby is old enough to start walking your doctor may want him to wear corrective shoes.

In some cases, wearing the right shoe on the left foot and vice versa is all that is necessary. Orthopedic shoes are stiffer than regular infant shoes and should not be used unless definitely prescribed by your doctor.

Nostalgia

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One of life's greatest pleasures is recalling the past.

Nostalgia begins very early. As a boy grows older and has more to recall, nostalgia will play a larger role in his life. You're probably pretty much of a yore-dreamer yourself, if you can turn back the clock of thought and remember when—

More people drank cream soda pop than any other flavor.

Lon Chaney scared more film fans than Boris Karloff and "King Kong" put together. Remember him in "Phantom of the Opera" and Hunchback of Notre Dame?

When you changed a nickel, two of the five pennies you got back would have Indian heads on them. The most widespread forms of gambling in America were pitching coins at a crack in the pavement—and playing marbles for keeps.

Half the kids in the land thought John Dillinger was a late-blooming Robin Hood, and the other half wanted to grow up and become a "G-man" under J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI.

Every boy knew how to make a whistle out of an old cotton spool or a hollow swamp weed.

All girls played tennis in skirts. Those bold enough to show up in shorts were ruled out of the court. Families weren't afraid to sleep in public parks at night during heat waves, because mugging had not yet become the criminals' leading outdoor sport.

Anybody who couldn't learn to repair a punctured inner tube in a jiffy had no business going motor.

At least 100 persons a year were killed in Fourth of July fireworks explosions—and uncouth kids lost fingers.

Women spent more time braiding their hair than fixing their faces.

Only hoboes and people on picnics cooked meals outdoors in summer.

Nobody wore sports jackets and slacks. Only a poor man wore coats and pants that didn't match.

A girl who could make good fudge never lacked a beau.

Cupid's Aim Still Steady, Report Shows

LISBON — Cupid's June barrage on Columbiana county hasn't changed much in intensity in three years.

The marriage license department of probate court issued 104 licenses last month. The June totals were 106 last year and 104 in 1961.

AT Reception

Annette DeLaratta was in charge of the guest book when 300 guests attended the reception at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. The top layer of the cake centering the bride's table was in the form of an open Bible. A crystal punch bowl was set at one end and pink and yellow tapered lighted the decor. Out of state guests were from Indiana, Pennsylvania and Michigan.

The bride is a graduate of Lordstown High School and Youngstown University where she majored in English in the College of Education.

Mr. McElfresh is a graduate of Salem High School and Youngstown University where he was a psychology major. He is serving as second lieutenant with the air force assigned to communications school at Keesler air base.

Following the reception the couple left for Biloxi, Miss., where they will reside until the bridegroom finishes his course. For the trip the bride wore a yellow linen sheath with wide white collar and tailored white coat.

The rehearsal dinner was held Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Goche of Lipkey Road, Warren.

Mr. McElfresh chose Louis Hiller of Niles to serve as his best man and Ronald Goche, brother of the bride, and Anthony Elia, ushered.

A pink sheath dress embroidered in white was worn by Mrs. Goche for her daughter's wedding, and Mrs. McElfresh wore a blue embroidered dress. Both mothers complemented their costumes with corsages of carnations.

For her wedding the bride wore a full length gown of silk organza and Alencon lace trimmed the seed pearls, and fashioned with scoop neckline and self bow at back waistline of the controlled bell silhouette skirt which swept to a chapel train. Her finger-tip length veil of illusion was caught to a crown of seed pearls and her flowers were white feathered carnations, pink rosbuds and stephanotis.

The attendants were dressed in chiffon dresses with high cummerbund waistlines with matching feathered pink carnations and pink rosebud headpieces and bouquets of ths am flowers. The maid of honor was gowned in pink and white and the bridesmaid in yellow and white.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerad L. McCowin

Joyce Morris Bride Of Gerad L. McCowin

At an impressive candlelight service Saturday in St. Jacob's United Church of Christ, Miss Joyce Edith Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy R. Morris of RD 1, Leetonia, became the bride of Gerad Lee McCowin, son of Mrs. Allen Gibson of Leetonia and Paul McCowin of East Palestine. The date was also the 24th wedding anniversary of the bride's parents.

Twelve seven-branch cathedral candelabra at the altar and single tall candlesticks on alternating pew ends bordering the aisle lit the sanctuary when Rev. William V. Ring officiated at the 7:30 p.m. double ring service. Eileen Farmer was soloist and nuptial melodies were played by Marshall Bailey, great-uncle of the bride.

The altar was banked with fernery and palms and decorated with two vases of white and pink asters.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents and was attended by Miss Mary Jane Brown of Girard as maid of honor, and bridesmaids, Kay Conley of Girard, Mary Tittl of Newbury and Bonita Bartholow, cousin of the bride. Sheila Wherry, another cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid.

For her wedding the bride wore a floor length gown of white organza over taffeta with trimming of Alencon lace. Lace applied motifs trimmed the wrists of the long tapered sleeves which with a wide scooped neckline and dropped shoulder line fashioned the bodice. The scissors skirt of organza revealed large pearl shaped medallions applied to the front of the full hooped skirt which swept to a circular chapel train. A lace queen's crown edged with crystals and pearls held her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion and her bouquet was of white carnations and stephanotis.

The attendants wore dresses styled with sheer overskirts with mantilla-like scallops of velvety center back. Pompon chrysanthemums formed their headpieces which boasted flutter veils. Miss Brown wore pink and the bridesmaids maize, mint green, aqua and lavender, and their colonial bouquets matched their dresses.

P. Michael Olmstead of New Philadelphia was best man, and ushers were Wayne A. Morris, brother of the bride, Duane McGomely of Fremont, and Edward Will of Cleveland. Alpheus Bartholow with the armed services stationed in Virginia, was honorary usher. Junior usher was Orin Morris, brother of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a blue silk eyelet embroidered sheath dress and Mrs. Gibson a white embroidered sheath dress. Both had corsages of pink roses.

A miniature bridal pair in front of a gold cross topped the three-tier wedding cake centering the table of the bride at the reception in the church Fellowship Hall after the ceremony. Background was rainbow colored bells tied with ribbons and two silver wedding rings encircling the names of the bridal couple.

Esther Yoder of Columbiana registered the 200 guests. Those from out of the state were from Pennsylvania, Michigan, Delaware and Maryland.

A beige sheath dress was worn by the bride for her honeymoon to the Pocono Mountains.

She is a graduate of Leetonia High School and Kent State University and had been employed as elementary teacher in the Leetonia school system.

Also a graduate of Leetonia High School, Mr. McCowin graduated from Western Reserve University and is employed by the Pure Food and Drug Administration at Cincinnati where they will make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Gibson were hosts at the rehearsal luncheon Friday evening.

For her wedding the bride wore a full length gown of silk organza and Alencon lace trimmed the seed pearls, and fashioned with scoop neckline and self bow at back waistline of the controlled bell silhouette skirt which swept to a chapel train. Her finger-tip length veil of illusion was caught to a crown of seed pearls and her flowers were white feathered carnations, pink rosbuds and stephanotis.

Boston Dumps Tribe 6-1 On Morehead's 2-Hitter

Romano Socks Homer In 9th

Indians Now Tied For 5th In League

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Manager Birdie Tebbetts probably said what everyone was thinking who saw Boston rookie Dave Morehead pitch a masterful two-hitter against the Indians.

"I wouldn't have wanted to see him lose his no-hit game on that first hit," Tebbetts remarked Tuesday night after the Red Sox 6-1 triumph over Cleveland.

Morehead, a 19-year-old right-hander, had not allowed a hit until Fred Whitfield rapped an easy grounder toward second in the eighth. The ball bounced over second baseman Chuck Schilling's head as he was about to glove it.

John Romano, making his first appearance for Cleveland since suffering a broken hand May 26, ruined Morehead's shutout bid by slamming a pinch homer to lead off the ninth.

"The first hit made the difference," said Morehead. "I would have been pitching differently to Romano. I admit he surprised me, though. I knew he'd been hurt and out of action, so I tried to get that fast ball in on him."

Kirkland Is Walked
Morehead had a perfect game going until he walked Willie Kirkland on a 3-2 pitch with two out in the seventh.

"You have to be lucky, and I was lucky until that bad hop," said Morehead, although he was "throwing well and my control was good."

Noted more for his fastball, the young right-hander used a wicked curve frequently against the Tribe. He struck out five and walked only two in improving his record to five victories against five losses.

Boston got all the runs it needed in the second inning off loser Barry Latman (5-4), on a walk and singles by Lou Clinton, Morehead and Schilling.

Clinton rapped a solo homer in the sixth, when the Sox scored four runs. After Ed Bressoud singled and Latman hit Russ Nixon with a pitch, Gary Geiger hit a bouncer that second baseman Mike de la Hoz bobbled, then threw to the plate too late to get Nixon, who scored all the way from second. Carl Yastrzemski doubled to left for two more runs.

Batted For Kindall
Romano batted for Jerry Kindall and sent the ball sailing over the left field fence. It was his fifth homer of the season and came only hours after he was put back on the active list.

To make room for Romano, the Tribe sold reserve catcher Cal Neuman to Jacksonville of the International League.

Cleveland, now tied for fifth place with Baltimore, will send Pedro Ramos (3-2) against Boston's Bob Heffner (1-0) today.

The Houston Colts won 11 of 18 games from the Chicago Cubs in 1962 and finished six games ahead of the Cubs in the National League.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS LIDE

My attention was called to an error I had in last week's column about treating Lake Guilford with copper sulphate in order to activate the fish. I should have said Zepernick Lake. Copper sulphate has been placed in Zepernick and I hope the fishermen will give it a good try and see if it increases the fishing results.

There are lunker bass in Zepernick's but hard to handle on account of the many stumps and logs in the north end. Many big bass have shook the hook by lolling up the fisherman's line on a sunken log or wrapping around the spatter dock (lily pads) which is prevalent in a good part of the lake. Sooner or later the spatter dock will have to be killed or brought under control in order to provide more open water.

I INTEND TO DO some fishing there this weekend. I have time on my hands since retirement. Right now I am occupied painting the trim on my home.

So many individuals have contacted me about how to get a game protector's job, that I will provide the information:

First, I have been told that the college graduates may get the preference. At last we have several experienced school teachers who have managed to get appointments as game protectors or other positions in fish and game management. Trainees attend two weeks of training at an indoor school. After this comes 3 months practical work with game protectors, fish and game management work followed by a civil service written test.

Say, for instance, there are 25 jobs open, 50 men attend the training session, after the written tests 25 may be appointed. But the ones passing the tests with lower grades will be placed on file and may get an appointment if one occurs within one year after examinations.

All these jobs are just as honorable as any other kind of work. It is up to the individual to retain the proper respect as you will be serving all the people. I suppose there are drawbacks in most any kind of work.

Doctors would not say Sternberg's neck was broken, but did not discount the possibility of a fracture in the intricate series of bones involved. He was placed in traction.

A modest, personable blond, Sternberg set the pending world record at the Compton Invitational Meet June 7. He first conquered the 16-foot barrier at Milwaukee last March when he soared 15-3 1/2. He cleared 16-5 in April and 16-7 two weeks before his record mark. Only a sophomore this past season, Sternberg never was defeated.

Sternberg was to have competed for the United States in the Soviet Union later this month.

Mile Branch Grange Plans Horse Show
A special pony pulling contest will get the Central Ohio Saddle Club Association horse show underway at Mile Branch Grange grounds Thursday at 9:30 a.m.

The horse show is slated to start at 12:30 p.m.

The holiday program will include 25 classes with trophies, ribbons and cash prizes to be awarded in each event.

Head judge for the event will be Nelson McNutt of Ashland. Other officials include Robert Remington of Lodi; Stewart; Everett Powell of Paris; ringmaster R. J. Skivlocki of Kensington; announcer; Charles Sheen of Salem; blacksmith; and Mrs. Maryland Hahn Goble will preside at the organ.

Chairman for the program is Emmet Hole of RD 5, Alliance.

He then gave a good imitation of a man with the jitters after each chip. But to emphasize his current weakness, he placed the ball six feet from the green, barely chipped one from there and sent his next clear across the green.

"That's what I've been doing right along," he said. "It can't be because I quit smoking a couple of months ago. Physically I'm feeling fine and I hope to get fired up enough to win this tournament."

He opens defense of his title in a field of 156 today. Charlie Sifford of Los Angeles, a practice round of 69. Bob Gray, the host club pro, runner-up to Kroll last year, had figured a score of 272 would be good enough to win the top prize of $9,000 in the pot of $50,000.

Dodgers Wrestle Lead From Cards 1-0

Giants' Marichal Outduels Spahn In 16 Innings 1-0; Bucs Triumph

Associated Press Sports Writer
Not even Carl Hubbell would deny that the Giants have a new Meal Ticket Juan Marichal. Exactly 30 years—to the day—after Hubbell, the original Meal Ticket, pitched his greatest game by hurling the Giants to a 1-0, 18-inning triumph over St. Louis, Marichal came up with an amazingly similar performance in a 10, 16-inning victory over Milwaukee Tuesday night.

Marichal, a strong-armed right hander who earlier this season pitched a no-hitter, battled for 4 hours and 10 minutes with Braves' starter Warren Spahn, the 42-year-old left-hander. Then, Willie Mays hit one out of Candlestick Park with one out in the last of the 16th, bringing a dramatic and sudden ending to one of baseball's greatest pitching battles.

The struggle also stole the National League spotlight from the Los Angeles Dodgers, who took over first place from St. Louis by beating the Cardinals 1-0 on Don Drysdale five-hit pitching and Ron Fairly's run-scoring single.

Lead Loop By 1/2 Game
The triumph moved the Dodgers over front by one-half game over the Cardinals, with the third-place Giants another one-half game back. Fourth-place Cincinnati crept to within 2 1/2 games of the top as Gordy Coleman's tie-breaking two-run single carried the Reds to a 6-4 decision over Houston.

The fifth-place Chicago Cubs downed the New York Mets 4-1 and Pittsburgh edged Philadelphia 3-2.

Marichal, bringing his record to 13-3 with his ninth straight victory, scattered eight hits and struck out 10. Mays saved him in the fourth inning with a rifle throw from center field that cut down Norm Larker at the plate as he tried to score from second on Del Crandall's single.

Spahn, now 11-4, had pitched 27 consecutive scoreless innings going into the 16th. He had allowed only eight hits and had struck out two while issuing only one walk—an intentional pass to Mays. He got the first out, then Mays hit the first pitch to him over the left field fence and stuck a candle in Hubbell's anniversary cake.

Fairly got Drysdale, 10-9, the run he needed in the seventh after Frank Howard singled and reached second on Bill Skowron's infield out. That left Simmons' record at 7-4.

Trailing 3-2, the Reds scored the tying run in the seventh inning against the Colts on a run-producing double by Vada Pinson, who has hit in 20 straight games. Coleman then came through with his key single, winning it for Bob Purkey, 3-4. Don McMahon, 0-3, was the loser.

The Cubs exploited a throwing error by Mets pitcher Al Jackson 6-8, scored three unearned runs in the second inning and held on behind the six-hit hurling of Bob Buhl, 7-5. Jackson threw Buhl's bunt away in the second after Andre Rodgers had singled, and a sacrifice fly by Lou Brock, a single by Ellis Burton and Billy Williams' double did the rest of the damage.

Dick Stigman was the winner, with help in the ninth from workhorse reliever Bill Dailey, and Bill Faul was the loser.

Smith, who replaced injured rookie outfielder Fred Valentine in the first inning at Baltimore, singled and scored in the second, singled home a run in the third, and doubled in the Orioles' deciding run in the seventh.

Daniels, whose only two victories this season are over the Athletics, turned in his first complete game in nine starts. The Senators settled things against loser Orlando Pena with three unearned runs in the fifth on three Kansas City errors, a sacrifice and two bloop hits.

Ellsworth-Jackson Grabs Loop Lead
The Ellsworth-North Jackson entry, in the Portage Southern F League, hustled to its eighth win in ten starts by defeating Charleston on the latter's field, 21 to 3, Tuesday.

Tom Raeburn hit a two-run homer, and Sinn and Cochran had doubles for the winners. The winners wrapped up the game in the third inning with ten runs. Each team had seven hits, but several walks combined with some solid hitting, spelled the difference for the winners. Martin went the distance for Ellsworth-Jackson. He had a five-hitter going into the last inning, when two singles scored a run for the losers.

The Ellsworth-Jackson team defeated Paris, 17 to 2, and Deerfield, 2 to 1, in recent games. They are now in first place in the league, as a result of Deerfield's 2 to 1 victory over Randolph, Tuesday. Their next game is with Randolph at North Jackson, next Tuesday. One of their two losses came at the hands of Randolph.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: For years I have enjoyed corn on the cob. But getting the butter on the corn and keeping it there can be exasperating. But it's easily remedied.

Put the butter on the concave side of your fork and then rub the convex side along the ear of the corn. Both the fork and the butter will get warm, but the melted butter will drip slowly through the fork times to the proper place on the cob.

Rapid and efficacious

MR. J. G. BARRY.

DEAR HELOISE: Please tell your mothers not to cut up those old sheets and make small sheets for the new baby's bassinet. It's a waste.

Use old pillow cases or make cases from the old sheets. These will fit exactly over the mattress in a bassinet.

A sheet usually needs to be changed at the exact moment that mother's hamburger is burning. But if you use pillow cases, the mattress may be turned over and the case is all fresh and clean on the other side.

I suggest that mothers place a piece of rubber sheeting in the bottom of the bassinet before putting in the mattress. Then bassinet will always be clean.

MOMMY.

DEAR HELOISE: There are only two left in our family... our kids are all grown, married, etc., so we use lots of frozen dinners... both commercially processed and home made.

I have found that instead of lighting the oven to cook the metal trays of food that I can use my electric roaster. I can put two dinners in it, and without wasting an oven full of heat or getting my kitchen hot, these two dinners cook beautifully.

COUPLE.

And did you know... that you could also take some types of frozen dinners out of the freezer ahead of time and let them thaw completely before placing them in your oven or cookers, especially if they are homemade and the food is entirely cooked. You not only save time but fuel because they don't have to cook as long. Try it chev have in mind for the nonaggression pact, particularly in relation to Communist East Germany?

Put the tea bags in the water and let the clothes pin hang over the edge of the container.

Particularly objectionable to the West in the past have been Moscow conditions for a nonaggression pact which would enhance the status of East Germany.

There is some hope in official quarters that the Kremlin has come to such a point in its military situation and in its dispute with Red China that it wants to start reaching some form of accommodation with the West.

431 New Car Titles Issued By County

LISBON — The car title department at Columbiana County Courthouse titled 431 new vehicles worth $1,478,754 during June, according to Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey.

This compares with 388 titles and a $1,122,931 value for the same month last year, and with 328 titles in May this year — a record for the past two years.

Stacey said he paid the county treasurer $6,832 in fees collected in Common Pleas Court and the car title department.

The title department took in $5,881 of which $4,460 went to the county and $1,421 to the state. The department issued 3,924 auto titles, 48 duplicate titles, 903 memorandums, four duplicate memorandums, 1,467 notations of liens, 1,244 cancellations of liens, and 1,151 acknowledgments.

Stacey said $7204 was paid the state treasurer last month from the collection of sales and use tax, and $70,552 from the collection of the dealers tax. The county received $758 for its one per cent poundage fee.

Civil actions filed in June in common pleas court totaled 72 compared to 69 for June last year.

3 Youngstown Men Enter 'Innocent' Pleas

CLEVELAND (AP) — Three brothers indicted last week by a federal grand jury investigating racket conditions in the Youngstown area appeared voluntarily yesterday before U. S. District Judge Girard E. Kalbfleisch.

Pleas of innocent to charges of tax violations were entered by Joe Alexander, 49, and his brothers, Elias, 37, and Nicholas, 45, all of Youngstown. Each was released under $2,500 bond.

They were charged with filing false partnership tax returns for the Alexander Distributing Co. for 1957 and 1958. The indictment said income was reported at $39,329 for 1957 and $30,039 for 1958, but that actual income was $55,331 and $47,152 respectively.

The Alexander brothers were among eight persons indicted.

Driver Cited After Mishap In Sebring

SEBRING J An Alliance man, who was driving home after becoming ill at work Tuesday, was charged with reckless operation of an automobile at 8:12 p.m. after he was involved in an accident.

Ernest L. Soles, 49, of 579 W. Ely St., Alliance, was cited by Sebring police after his automobile, which he was driving east on Ohio Ave., went off the roadway at the Sebring village limits.

Struck a pole at the southeast corner of 21st St. and Ohio Ave., went back on the roadway and struck a parked car and then went off the road again, hitting a maple tree, and onto a bank, damaging a lawn. The car then proceeded east on the sidewalk and struck a tree. The parked vehicle was owned by Mrs. Paul Chambers of 663 W. Ohio Ave. A diabetic coma may have resulted in the accident, police said.

COLLISION REPORTED

Cars driven by James R. Galladay, 18, of 1300 10th St., Cambridge, and Alfred G. Fetters Jr., 21, of 237 Eastern Ave., Alliance, were damaged in a collision at 2 p.m. Tuesday on S. Ellsworth Ave. at the intersection of Pershing St.

According to police report, a contributing factor in the mishap was that Galladay's rear signal light did not work. No arrest was made.

Ordinances Get Council Attention

In addition to the new city sewage rate ordinance passed by City Council Tuesday night, other measures which captured consideration of Salem's lawmakers included four pending ordinances.

One, introduced last night by Councilman James Aldom, given all three readings and passed as an emergency measure, authorizes and directs the director of public service to enter into contract with Pressure Tapping and Welding Service, Inc., for the tapping and placing of gate valves in water lines located on the site of the W. State St. railroad overpass project.

Two ordinances introduced Tuesday night by Councilman Albert Leson were given first and second readings. These are measures "determining to proceed with the improvement" by asphalt paving of Jennings Ave. from W. State St. to the end of the curbing; and Aetna St. from S. Lincoln Ave. to Franklin Ave.

Given a second reading was legislation introduced at Council's June 18 session by Councilman John Rance establishing "a purchase, maintenance and repair of equipment reserve fund for the replacement of monies to be used for the current and future purchase, maintenance and repair of city equipment."

Asks Governor To Veto Measure

Labor Official Hits Bill on Compensation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The secretary-treasurer of the Ohio AFL-CIO has asked Gov. James A. Rhodes to veto the unemployment compensation bill approved by the General Assembly.

Elmer F. Cape sent the Republican governor a letter stating his case. In it, the labor official also called for a veto of the workmen's compensation bill also passed by the legislature last week.

But by the time the letter reached Rhodes Tuesday afternoon, according to the governor's office, the chief executive already had signed the Workmen's Compensation Act into law.

A spokesman for the Ohio AFL-

CIO commented, "We regret the governor signed the bill so quickly after passage by the legislature, and that he apparently didn't consider our side of the case."

In his letter, accompanied by what he called detailed analyses of both bills, Cape also asked that the governor call a special session of the legislature to deal with the question of adequate financing of unemployment compensation.

Cape said the two measures "discriminate against the injured and unemployed worker" and will "mean less compensation for such workers and their families when injury and joblessness strike."

One bill (Amended Substitute House Bill 222) will men $16 million a year less in compensation to the unemployed, Cape wrote. He contended that the measure "fails to accomplish what its supporters claim it will do, namely, rebuild the unemployment compensation fund to a sound level."

The union officials said the plan "will not rebuild the fund quickly enough and it takes a calculated gamble against any unusual increase in unemployment."

He claimed the unemployment compensation bill will produce a "surplus" of only $31 million a year over what is paid from the fund and this is based on the hope that there will be no increase in unemployment. It will take about 12 years to rebuild the fund to a minimum safe level of $450 million, Cape said.

The workmen's compensation (Amended Substitute Senate Bill 131), Cape continued, contains many "restriction that will mean less compensation for the worker injured on the job." He said the measure "turns the clock back in the field of workmen's compensation."

The unemployment compensation measure stiffens the qualifications for benefits and also raises employers' contributions to the fund, now at a level of some $100 million.

The workmen's compensation laws were revised in the Senate bill and temporary disability benefits for the first 12 weeks were raised from $40 to $56 weekly. Union leaders felt the increase was inadequate.

Sewer Rate

Utilities Commission and said: "If we are going to criticize city officials when we don't like what they do, then we must uphold them when they do a good job." Aldom contended that the a 70 per cent sewage rate would be a "vote of confidence" for the Commission.

Councilman Koenreich, who presided at the meeting in the absence of Council President Joseph, pointed out: "There isn't a man in this room who doesn't believe the Commission is doing a Commission's request for at least good job and who doesn't recognize the improvements made at the sewage plant." He declared that it did not follow, however, that those who might wish a 65 per cent rate instead of a 70 per cent rate were lacking in confidence in the Utilities Commission.

SUMMITVILLE MEETING SUMMITVILLE Trustees of the Franklin Township Volunteer Fire Department will meet at 8 p.m. today in the fire hall.

Leak Closes Pool

To Lisbon Swimmers

LISBON — The village swimming pool will be closed indefinitely because of a water leak. Councilman Fred Steele announced this morning. He is a member of the pool commission.

Steele said the pool lost one foot of water last night while the water was being circulated through the filter. "It's a bad leak and we'll have to tear up the concrete apron, locate the leak and make repairs," he said.

A break in a plastic pipe was responsible for a falling water level after the pool was filled the first week in June. Opening was delayed until June 15 for repairs.

part of Kennedy's repeated appearances on home television screens repeatedly preaching the doctrine of Atlantic solidarity and cooperation.

Furthermore, Soviet Premier Khrushchev could only have been dismayed by the evidence of strengthened American - German unity.

According to American sources, the German response to policy proposals pushed by Kennedy—including the idea of creating a multilateral nuclear force in the West—was more enthusiastic than anticipated.

All things considered, Kennedy came home convinced that the trip was worthwhile despite claims by some that it was a mistake to visit major nations where governments admittedly are in a state of flux.

However, some who are close to Kennedy still believe his impact at home and abroad would have been greater had he flown back to Washington after his big receptions in Germany and Ireland.

The overnight stay in England produced few if any tangible results from Kennedy's viewpoint. And two days in Italy proved to be anticlimactic following the President's earlier welcomes.

ties and council agreed to investigate.

John Batista, who operates the Tri-County Ramble Agency on N. Main St., asked that the 20-foot alley alongside his place of business be paved. Mayor Lee Harrold advised Batista that alleys are to be paved at the expense of the property owners. He further stated that conversation with Tom Newsom, owner of the building, showed Newsom willing to cooperate.

Council accepted an ordinance making the dedication of two lots 25 by 150 feet in the Beulah V. Zellers allotment complete. The rules are also suspended when council voted to accept for maintenance the section of Stanton Ave. from Manor Dr. to Manor Circle.

Solicitor Kuhlman also announced that bids for seal-coating had been received from the Snyder Asphalt Co. of Hanoverton and the City Asphalt Company of Youngstown. Kuhlman said it was apparent that Snyder had submitted the low bid and that the question remaining is the amount of seal coating to be ordered.

Council voted to accept the recent resignation of veteran Councilman Harry Fullerton and to accept the appointment of John Robinson to fill the vacancy.

Police Chief William McGuckin stated that the new police cruiser siren had been delivered and will be installed in the car when it is delivered next week. McGuckin also said that an improvement had been noted in the number of motorists stopping for pedestrians at the crosswalk. He said that some warnings had been issued but no arrests have been made.
